LAist Says:

LAist gets a lot of event announcements, and we comb through them all to bring you a curated list of what's happening in LA this weekend, including these 20 events. Don't forget to check the February Guide, as it has other options, too. We'll be back on Monday to help you plan the week ahead.

FRIDAY, FEB. 13

ARCHITECTURE+HISTORY: Frank Lloyd Wright's famous Hollyhock House re-opens with a ribbon cutting ceremony at 4 pm on Feb. 13. Following the ceremony, the city of L.A. and the Barnsdall Art Park Foundation opens Hollyhock House for self-guided tours for 24 hours until 4 pm on Feb. 14. The admission is free through 11 am on Saturday. They're encouraging you to use the #WrightAtNight hashtag on social if you visit.
